1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 After more than two years of contentious litigation, followed by months of settlement 4 negotiations, Plaintiffs request final approval of a $9.9 million non-reversionary cash settlement on 5 behalf of approximately 146,000 Robinhood investors who experienced losses associated with the 6 March 2020 Outages of Robinhood’s trading platform. Since the Court granted preliminary approval 7 on December 2, 2020 (ECF No. 186), Plaintiffs have obtained the data necessary to calculate 8 proposed settlement payments, determined those payments, and issued notice by U.S. Mail via 9 postcard, email, and targeted digital notice online. Settlement Class Members have been apprised 10 of their estimated recovery from this Settlement in their individualized Long Form Notice that was 11 distributed by email. If approved, the Settlement provides for direct distribution of payments to 12 Settlement Class Members without requiring any claims forms.

13 The Settlement is the product of well-informed, arms’-length settlement negotiations—14 between experienced counsel facilitated by an experienced mediator. It arrived at a fully informed, 15 critical juncture in the litigation, after the completion of fact and expert discovery and extensive 16 motions, but before the Plaintiffs and Settlement Class Members faced the risks of pending class 17 certification, Daubert challenges, and summary judgment proceedings. The Settlement presents a 18 strong recovery and delivers tangible and immediate compensation to the Settlement Class, 19 particularly considering the substantial risks protracted litigation would present. The Court should 20 grant final approval.

21 II. BACKGROUND

22 A. The Litigation and Class Counsel’s Efforts

23 While a more detailed history of the litigation is contained in the Joint Declaration, Plaintiffs 24 provide the following summary of relevant background. Between March 2 and 3, 2020, Robinhood
25 experienced an Outage of its securities trading app and website that began just after Monday’s 26 market open and extended well into Tuesday, rendering systems nonfunctional or inaccessible to 27 Robinhood’s millions of customers. On March 9, users again found themselves unable to access 28 their accounts or transact on the markets due to an outage of Robinhood’s systems throughout the

1 morning. Beginning March 5, 2020, a series of putative class actions were filed against Robinhood
2 in state and federal court asserting claims arising from the Outages. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 4-5. Over a dozen 3 subsequent related actions were filed in, removed to, or transferred to this District, and they were 4 eventually consolidated on July 14, 2020. ECF No. 59.

5 After appointment of interim co-lead class counsel, ECF No. 65, Plaintiffs filed a 6 consolidated amended complaint (“Complaint”) on August 21, 2020. ECF No. 74. On October 5, 7 2020, Robinhood moved to dismiss the complaint, strike the Plaintiffs’ class allegations, and stay 8 discovery. ECF Nos. 76-77. On November 5, 2020, the Court denied Robinhood’s Motion to Stay.
9 At the February 18, 2021, Motion to Dismiss hearing, the Court gave its findings on the record,
10 largely denying Robinhood’s Motion with the exception of dismissing Defendant Robinhood 11 Markets, Inc., without prejudice. ECF No. 95. At the Court’s direction to select a mediator, the 12 parties chose David Geronemus of JAMS. ECF No. 100.

13 Discovery in this case was thorough and robust. The parties engaged in extensive 14 negotiations over the production of Robinhood’s documents and customer account and trading 15 information. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 13-14. Robinhood produced over 50,000 documents and Plaintiffs took 16 ten depositions of key Robinhood executives and engineers. Id. at ¶¶ 15-17. Given that the Outages 17 prevented Robinhood’s systems from being able to receive and execute most orders, the bulk of the 18 account information available included: (1) account and trading history information for the months
19 preceding the Outages; and (2) some limited trade information before and during the Outages as well 20 as trading activity that occurred once Robinhood’s systems were back online. In consultation with 21 Plaintiffs’ damages expert, Plaintiffs negotiated a sampling protocol that eventually led to the 22 production of account and trading information for approximately 40,000 Robinhood active users.
23 Id. at ¶ 14.

24 Robinhood took extensive discovery of the Plaintiffs, serving document requests and 25 interrogatories and deposing nine of them. Id. at ¶ 19. Additionally, Robinhood requested 26 inspections of Plaintiffs’ cell phones/devices that were used to access and/or trade on Robinhood’s 27 app, which Plaintiffs provided through data extractions. Id. Even with a compressed discovery 28

1 schedule, the parties completed discovery prior to the April 7, 2021 cutoff by completing multiple 2 depositions simultaneously. Id. at ¶ 20.

3 The Parties exchanged initial expert reports on June 25, 2021, with Plaintiffs producing three 4 experts on regulatory issues, securities brokerage operations, and Plaintiffs' proposed damages
5 models. Id. at ¶ 23. Robinhood submitted an initial expert report and then submitted three rebuttal 6 reports challenging each of Plaintiffs' experts' opinions. The Parties deposed each expert. Id. at ¶¶ 7 24-25.

8 The parties attended a mediation with Mr. Geronemus on July 27, 2021, although the matter 9 did not settle. On October 22, 2021, Plaintiffs filed a motion for class certification, supported by 10 over 50 documentary exhibits and deposition excerpts, the Declarations of Plaintiffs, and their expert 11 reports. ECF No. 138-40. Robinhood opposed Plaintiffs' Motion on December 3, 2021, and also 12 filed a Daubert motion to exclude the testimony and report of Plaintiffs' damages expert, Scott E.
13 Walster of Global Economics Group. ECF Nos. 145-46. Each motion was fully briefed and heard 14 by the Court in-person on February 24, 2022. At the hearing, the Court had multiple questions about 15 Plaintiffs' damages theories and requested a "hot tub" hearing featuring the parties' respective 16 economist experts that was set for June 9, 2022. ECF Nos. 161, 167-68.

17 On February 18, 2022, prior to the class certification hearing, Robinhood filed a Motion for 18 Summary Judgment on all of Plaintiffs' claims, relying heavily on the terms of Robinhood's 19 Customer Agreement and a recent federal court decision in a separate multi-district litigation against 20 Robinhood that dismissed those Plaintiffs' claims in In re January 2021 Short Squeeze Trading 21 Litig., 584 F.Supp.3d 1161 (S.D. Fla. 2022), appeal filed, Juncadella v. Robinhood Fin. LLC, No.
22 22-10669 (11th Cir. Mar. 02, 2022). ECF No. 160. Robinhood filed a Daubert Motion to Exclude 23 the opinions and testimony of Plaintiffs' brokerage operations expert, Peter Vinella. ECF No. 159.
24 At the class certification hearing, the Court stayed briefing on those Motions pending the "hot tub" 25 hearing with the parties' economists.

26 While these Motions were pending, the parties continued efforts to resolve the matter, 27 facilitated by Mr. Geronemus, over the course of many months. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 29-30. On May 10, 28 2022, the parties reached a settlement in principle that was then commemorated into a written

1 memorandum of understanding and a notice of settlement was filed with the Court on May 26, 2022.
2 Id. at ¶ 30. The Parties engaged in several rounds of negotiations before finalizing the terms of the 3 Settlement Agreement now submitted for the Court’s approval. After the preliminary approval
4 hearing on September 8, 2022, the Court requested some additional information and modifications 5 to the notice and payment distribution plans, and Plaintiffs filed a supplemental brief addressing 6 those issues on October 7, 2022. ECF No. 185. On December 2, 2022, the Court preliminarily 7 approved the Settlement. ECF No. 186 (the “Preliminary Approval Order”).

8 III. PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

9 A. The Settlement Class and Release

10 The proposed Settlement Class Members are a subset of Robinhood customers in March of 11 2020 who fall within one or more of three categories and were originally proposed as the “VWAP 12 Subclass,” the “SPY Option Subclass,” and the “Failed Trade Subclass” in Plaintiffs’ Class 13 Certification Motion. The Class Members are identified by Plaintiffs’ damages expert based on the 14 Customer Trading Information, using the “Ex Post” methodologies described in the Expert Report
15 of Scott E. Walster (“Walster Report”). ECF No. 173-3 (Walster Decl. ¶ 4). Based on the data 16 produced by Robinhood during the litigation, Plaintiffs identified approximately 150,000 Settlement
17 Class Members incurring approximately $20.4 million in losses under Plaintiffs’ damages 18 methodologies. Joint Decl. ¶ 37; ECF No. 173-3 (Walster Decl. ¶ 4). After preliminary approval 19 was granted, Plaintiffs’ expert analyzed the data and was remarkably close to the sampled. Plaintiffs 20 ultimately identified 146,418 Settlement Class Members who incurred $20,555,558.36 in losses.
21 Joint Decl., ¶ 37; Declaration of Scott Walster, ¶ 7.

22 Settlement Class Members have one or more Qualifying Trades in the following groups:

- 23 1. VWAP Loss Trades includes any person who closed one or more position(s) on March 3, 24 2020, at a loss relative to the Volume Weighted Average Price (“VWAP”) of those positions 25 during the March 2 and 3, 2020 Outages.
- 26 2. SPY Options Trades includes any person who held a SPDR S&P 500 (“SPY”) option 27 position expiring on March 2, 2020, and experienced a loss relative to the VWAP of those 28 options during the March 2, 2020 Outage.

1 3. Failed Marketable Trades includes any person who experienced a Failed Equity Trade that 2 became marketable during the March 2 and 3 Outages at a loss relative to the price at the end
3 of the March 2 and 3 Outages and/or the transaction price obtained through March 4, 2020;
4 or who experienced a Failed Equity Trade that became marketable during the March 9 5 Outage at a loss relative to the price at the end of the March 9 Outage and/or the transaction 6 price obtained through March 10, 2020.

7 Joint Decl. ¶ 36; Walster Decl. ¶ 4. Since preliminary approval, all Settlement Class Members have 8 been identified through Robinhood's Customer Trading Information and their estimated Settlement 9 Payment has been determined by Plaintiffs' damages expert pursuant to the Plan of Allocation.
10 Walster Decl., ¶ 7. Importantly, Settlement Class Members will not have to file a claim to obtain 11 their Settlement Payment and the payment will be automatically credited to their Robinhood account 12 if it is still active. SA § 2; Joint Decl. ¶ 32. Alternatively, Settlement Class Members may elect to 13 receive their payment digitally to another account such as Paypal or Venmo, or by check. Id.

14 B. The Settlement's Monetary Benefits

15 The Settlement provides substantial monetary relief in the form of a non-reversionary $9.9 16 million Settlement Fund that will be fully distributed to Class Members according to the proposed 17 Plan of Allocation. With a recovery of $9.9 million on the $20.5 million in estimated losses, Class 18 Members will recover just under 50% of their calculated losses (before deductions for Notice 19 Administration, Attorneys' Fees and Costs). Joint Decl. ¶ 44; Walster Decl. ¶ 7.

20 C. The Settlement's Notice Plan

21 Since preliminary approval was granted, Plaintiffs' revised Notice Plan approved by the 22 Court has been implemented beginning on March 2, 2023. Azari Dec., ¶ 7. Chief components of 23 the Notice Plan includes sending the Long Form Notice via email and a postcard notice via U.S.
24 Mail to all Class Members using the Settlement Class Contact Information. Id., ¶¶ 14-17. The 25 Notice Plan also established a Settlement Website, www.RobinhoodOutagesClassAction.com, 26 where Settlement Class Members can access the Settlement Agreement, the Plan of Allocation, the 27 Consolidated Complaint, the concurrently filed Attorneys' Fees and Expense Motion, obtain further 28 information via phone or email, and can make changes to how they choose to receive their settlement

1 payment. SA § 4.1; Azari Decl. ¶ 26. Importantly, in addition to providing general information
2 regarding the settlement, the Long Form Notice is tailored to inform each Settlement Class Member 3 of their estimated pro rata Settlement Payment and include the symbol of the qualifying trade(s), 4 the estimated loss under each of the three categories, and the deduction for any credits or payments 5 already made under Robinhood’s Goodwill program. SA, Ex. 1. The Long Form Notice also 6 includes the Plan of Allocation, which informs the Settlement Class of the methodology for the 7 Settlement Payment calculations. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 38-39.

8 The Notice Plan also includes a currently running digital notice campaign via Google, 9 Facebook, and Instagram that specifically designed to reach Class Members by using their email 10 addresses and placing ads in their social media channels that direct them to the Settlement Website.
11 Azari Decl. ¶¶ 21-25; SA § 4.1(c). Additionally, a toll-free telephone number monitored by live 12 agents, an email address, and physical mailing address is available for Class Members to contact the 13 Settlement Administrator or Class Counsel directly. SA § 4.3; Azari Decl. ¶¶ 28-30. Although the 14 Notice Plan is only three weeks underway, Settlement Class Members have been using the website
15 and contacting Class Counsel with questions. The costs of Notice will be paid out of the Settlement 16 Fund. Id. § 3.4. The Notice Plan is the best practicable notice under the circumstances and meets 17 all due process requirements. Azari Decl. ¶¶ 34-38.

18 D. Service Awards

19 Concurrently with this filing, Plaintiffs will seek Service Awards for their work on behalf of 20 the Settlement Class. Plaintiffs intend to request $2,500 per Plaintiff in this case, which amounts to 21 $37,500 for all Service Awards. Joint Decl. ¶ 56. Each Plaintiff has dutifully performed their duties 22 in this case, including retaining counsel, providing documents and information to counsel for 23 investigatory and discovery purposes, and timely responding to inquiries from counsel. Id. Per 24 Northern District Guidelines, Plaintiffs are filing declarations supporting proposed Service Awards.

25 E. Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses

26 The Settlement Agreement permits Plaintiffs to seek an award of Attorneys’ Fees and 27 Expenses. Concurrently with this filing, Plaintiffs will file a Motion for Attorneys’ Fees and 28 Expenses in connection with final approval proceedings that will seek no more than 30% of the 1 Settlement Fund (or no more than $2,970,000) in Attorneys' Fees and up to $1,102,432.84 in 2 unreimbursed expenses. Joint Decl. ¶ 46.

3 F. Settlement Administrator

4 Plaintiffs engaged in a competitive bid process to select the proposed Settlement 5 Administrator, Epiq Class Action and Claims Solutions, Inc. ("Epiq"). Plaintiffs prepared a written 6 RFP that was submitted to seven experienced class action notice providers. Plaintiffs ultimately 7 selected Epiq, who presented one of the two most cost-effective bids that also implemented the notice 8 procedures that would be appropriate in this matter. SA § 3; see generally Azari Decl. The 9 Settlement Administration Expenses shall not exceed $225,000 (Joint Decl. ¶ 58) and will be paid 10 out of the Settlement Fund. SA § 2.1(d).

11 IV. ARGUMENT

12 A. Class Notice Complied With the Court's Preliminary Approval Order, Rule 23(C)
13 and (E), and Due Process

14 "Pursuant to Rule 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the claims of a certified 15 class may be settled only with the Court's approval. Rule 23(e) outlines the procedures that apply to 16 the proposed class settlement, including the requirement to direct notice in a reasonable manner to 17 all class members who would be bound by the proposal." Arnold v. DMG Mori USA, Inc., No. 18-18 CV-02373-JD, 2022 WL 18027883, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 30, 2022) (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)); 19 see also Norcia v. Samsung Telecommunications Am., LLC, No. 14-CV-00582-JD, 2021 WL
20 3053018, at *1 (N.D. Cal. July 20, 2021). Adequate notice sets forth the nature of the action, defines 21 the class to be certified, the class claims and defenses at issue, while also explaining to class members 22 that they may enter an appearance through counsel if so desired, request exclusion from the 23 settlement class, and that any judgment will be binding on all class members. See Fed. R. Civ. P.
24 23(c)(2)(B).

25 At Preliminary Approval, the Court approved the proposed Notice Plan, finding "that its 26 dissemination substantially in the manner and form set forth in the Settlement Agreement meets the 27 requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 and due process, constitutes the best notice
28 practicable under the circumstances, and shall constitute due and sufficient notice to all Persons

1 entitled thereto of the pendency of the Action.” Preliminary Approval Order at 4. Now that Plaintiffs 2 have effectuated the Notice Plan, they have satisfied the requirements of Rule 23. Accord Noll et al.
 3 v. eBay, Inc., 309 F.R.D. 593, 604-5 (N.D. Cal. 2015). Courts routinely find that comparable notice
 4 procedures meet the requirements of due process and Rule 23. See id.; Williamson v. McAfee, Inc., 5 No. 5:14-cv-00158-EJD, 2016 WL 4524307, at *7-8 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 30, 2016); Russell v. Kohl’s
 6 Dept. Stores, Inc., No. ED CV 15-1143 RGK, 2016 WL 6694958, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 11, 2016).

7 B. The Court Should Confirm Its Certification of the Settlement Class

8 This Court has already ruled that certification of the claims in this matter are appropriate for 9 class treatment and reaffirmed this conclusion in the Preliminary Approval Order. Nothing has 10 changed since the Preliminary Approval Order that would alter the Court’s certification of a 11 settlement class. All requirements of Rule 23(a) and 23(b)(3) remain satisfied. As discussed in the 12 Preliminary Approval Order, the Court conditionally certified a class of:

13 “[a]ll Robinhood accountholders in the United States who: (i) closed 14 a position on March 3, 2020, at a loss relative to the Volume Weighted 15 Average Price (“VWAP”) during the March 2 and 3, 2020 Outages; 16 (ii) held SPDR S&P 500 options expiring on March 2, 2020 and 17 experienced a loss relative to the VWAP during the March 2, 2020
 18 Outage; (iii) who experienced a Failed Equity Trade during the March 19 2 and 3 Outages at a loss relative to the price at the end of the March 20 2 and 3 Outages and/or the transaction price obtained through March 21 4, 2020; or (iv) who experienced a Failed Equity Trade during the 22 March 9 Outage at a loss relative to the price at the end of the March 23 9 Outage and/or the transaction price obtained through March 10, 24 2020.”

25 Preliminary Approval Order at 2.

26 Accordingly, the Court should again confirm certification of the proposed settlement class 27 under Rule 23(a) and Rule 23(b)(3). Norcia, 2021 WL 3053018, at *2 (finally approving class 28 definition because “[n]othing material has changed on this score since preliminary approval.”); (N.D. Cal. Mar. 28, 2022) (“Before turning to the application of these factors here, the Court confirms the certification of the proposed settlement class under Rules 23(a) and 23(b)(3) of the 1 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Nothing material has changed on this score since preliminary 2 approval.”).

3 C. Final Approval is Appropriate Because the Proposed Settlement is Fair, Reasonable,
4 and Adequate

5 “Pursuant to Rule 23(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the claims of a certified 6 class may be settled only with the Court's approval.” Linda Parker Pennington, 2022 WL 899843, 7 at *3 (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1)). “At the final approval stage, the primary inquiry is whether 8 the proposed settlement ‘is fundamentally fair, adequate and reasonable.’” Criswell v. Boudreaux, 9 No. 120-CV-01048-DAD-SAB, 2021 WL 5811887, at *4 (E.D. Cal. Dec. 7, 2021) (quoting Lane v.
10 Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d 811, 818 (9th Cir. 2012), and citing Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 11 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998), overruled on other grounds by Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 564 U.S.
12 338 (2011)). However, the importance of preliminary settlement approval—which was based here 13 on a strong record and after a hearing—weighs heavily in the final settlement approval calculus. See 14 generally Preliminary Approval Order; see also Musgrove v. Jackson Nurse Prof’ls, LLC, No. CV 15 17-6565 FMO (SSx), 2022 WL 2092656, at *4 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 11, 2022) (“[a]lthough ‘[c]loser 16 scrutiny is reserved for the final approval hearing[.]’ . . . ‘the showing at the preliminary approval 17 stage—given the amount of time, money, and resources involved in, for example sending out . . .
18 class notice[]—should be good enough for final approval.’” (quoting respectively, Harris v. Vector
19 Mktg. Corp., 2011 WL 1627973, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 29, 2011), and Spann v. J.C. Penney Corp., 20 314 F.R.D. 312, 310 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 5, 2016), and citing 4 Newberg on Class Actions § 13:10 (5th 21 ed.)).

22 Under Rule 23(e)(2), the Court may approve a proposal that would bind class members only 23 after a hearing and only on finding that it is fair, reasonable, and adequate after considering whether:

- 24 (A) the class representatives and class counsel have adequately represented 25 the class;
26 (B) the proposal was negotiated at arm’s length;
27 (C) the relief provided for the class is adequate, taking into account: 28 (i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal;
(ii) the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including the method of processing class-member claims;
(iii) the terms of any proposed award of attorney’s fees, including

- 1 timing of payment; and 2 (iv) any agreement required to be identified under Rule 23(e)(3); and 3 (D) the proposal treats class members equitably relative to each other.

 6 WL 822923 (9th Cir. Mar. 17, 2022).

7 Additionally, to assess the fairness of a class settlement, Ninth Circuit courts consider factors 8 including:

- 9 (1) the strength of the plaintiff’s case; (2) the risk, expense, complexity, 10 and likely duration of future litigation; (3) the risk of maintaining class 11 action status throughout the trial; (4) the amount offered in settlement; (5) 12 the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings; (6) 13 the experience and views of counsel; (7) the presence of a governmental 14 participant; and (8) the reaction of class members to the proposed 15 settlement.

16 In re Bluetooth Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 946 (9th Cir. 2011) (quoting Churchill 17 Vill., L.L.C. v. Gen. Elec., 361 F.3d 566, 575 (9th Cir. 2004)).

18 Prior to class certification, class settlements must withstand a “higher level of scrutiny for 19 evidence of collusion or other conflicts of interest than is ordinarily required under Rule 23(e) before 20 securing the court’s approval as fair.” In re Bluetooth at 946. The Court must be satisfied that “the 21 settlement is not the product of collusion among the negotiating parties.” Id. at 947 (quotations and 22 citation omitted). The Ninth Circuit has identified three indicia of possible collusion:

- 23 (1) “when counsel receive[s] a disproportionate distribution of the 24 settlement”; (2) “when the parties negotiate a ‘clear sailing 25 arrangement,’” under which the defendant agrees not to challenge a 26 request for an agreed-upon attorney’s fee; and (3) when the agreement 27 contains a “kicker” or “reverter” clause that returns unawarded fees to the 28 defendant, rather than the class.

Briseño v. Henderson, 998 F.3d 1014, 1023 (9th Cir. 2021)

“Courts may preliminarily approve a settlement and notice plan to the class if the proposed settlement: (1) appears to be the product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations; (2) does not grant improper preferential treatment to class representatives or other segments of the class; (3) falls within the range of possible approval; and (4) has no obvious deficiencies.” Hampton v. Aqua

1 Metals, Inc., No. 17-CV-07142-HSG, 2021 WL 4553578, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 5, 2021) (citation 2 omitted).

3 As detailed below, the Settlement deserves approval because the Class was adequately 4 represented, the Settlement was negotiated at arm's length based on a complete record of fact and 5 expert discovery, the relief is adequate, and the proposal treats Class Members equitably relative to 6 each other. Under the heightened fairness inquiry applied to settlements prior to class certification, 7 the Settlement contains no signs of collusion. The Settlement Agreement does not provide Class
8 Counsel with a disproportionate distribution, there is no "clear sailing" arrangement, and there is no 9 reversion of unclaimed funds to Robinhood.

10 i. The Adequacy of Class Representatives and Class Counsel

11 Plaintiffs respectfully ask this Court to finally approve the designation of Daniel Beckman, 12 Emma Jones, Mahdi Heidari Moghadam, Howard Morey, Colin Prendergast, Raghu Rao, Michael 13 Riggs, and Jason Steinberg as Class Representatives for purpose of this settlement. They are 14 members of the class they seek to represent, they have intimate knowledge of this case, they 15 understand their duties as a class representative, and they have no conflicts of interest with other 16 Class Members. Rule 23(e)(2)(A). The remaining Plaintiffs in this case – Gwaltney, Kuri, Leith, 17 Mahrouyan, Russell, Ward, and Xia – are not members of the Settlement Class and are dismissing 18 their claims without prejudice but have preserved their rights to pursue their claims against 19 Robinhood in their individual capacity. SA § 7.1. The Court should appoint the specified Plaintiffs 20 as Settlement Class Representatives because they have no conflicts with the class and are represented 21 by qualified counsel who will vigorously prosecute the class's interests. In re Online DVD-Rental 22 Antitrust Litig., 779 F.3d 934, 943 (9th Cir. 2015).

23 Likewise, and as this Court stated in its Preliminary Approval Order, CPM and Kaplan Fox 24 should be confirmed as Co-Lead Class Counsel for purposes of settlement. See Preliminary 25 Approval Order at 2; see also ECF No. 65 (Class Counsel were previously appointed interim co-26 lead class counsel). Rule 23(e)(2)(A) requires that Plaintiffs and Class Counsel "have adequately 27 represented the class." The long history of the litigation, the mediation process, and the strong results 28 obtained demonstrate that the Class was well represented. Plaintiffs and their counsel have

1 vigorously prosecuted this action on behalf of Settlement Class Members and will continue to 2 adequately protect the interests of the Settlement Class. See generally Joint Decl. Considering 3 counsel’s work in this Action, their collective expertise and experience in handling similar actions, 4 and the resources they have committed to representing the class, they should be appointed as Class 5 Counsel for the proposed settlement class under Rule 23(g)(3) and confirmed under Rule 23(g)(1).

6 Because “[n]othing has changed” with regard to the Class Representatives or Class Counsel
7 since Preliminary Approval, the Court should finally approve these requests. In re Facebook, 522 8 F. Supp. 3d at 625.

9 ii. The Parties Negotiated the Settlement at Arm’s Length

10 None of the signs of potential collusion identified by the Ninth Circuit are present here. See 11 In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 947. Counsel is not seeking a disproportionate distribution of the 12 Settlement (seeking no more than 30% for attorneys’ fees); the Settlement does not contain a “clear 13 sailing provision;” and there is no reversion of any Settlement Funds. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 31, 46; see also 14 SA § 2; compare Roes, 1-2 v. SFBSC Mgmt., LLC, 944 F.3d 1035, 1060 (9th Cir. 2019) (reversal of 15 the district court’s approval of the settlement based on the existence of a clear sailing agreement, the 16 disproportionate cash distribution to attorneys’ fees, and reversionary funds.)

17 Moreover, Class Counsel engaged in extensive, adverse negotiations with Robinhood, and 18 fully considered and evaluated the fairness of the Settlement. The protracted and hard-fought 19 negotiations included the assistance of an experienced mediator, David Geronemus of JAMS. At 20 his direction, Plaintiffs and Defendants submitted comprehensive mediation briefs and attended a 21 full-day mediation. Joint Decl. ¶ 29. After nearly a year of negotiations, the Parties ultimately 22 reached an agreement. Throughout the Action and settlement negotiations, Robinhood has been 23 vigorously represented by Debevoise & Plimpton LLP and Farella Braun + Martel LLP. Such 24 indicia of non-collusive negotiations (and terms) further establishes, under heightened scrutiny, that 25 the Settlement is fair. See In re Bluetooth, 654 F.3d at 946-47, and Briseño, 998 F.3d at 1023 (“[i]n 26 reviewing settlements struck before class certification, district courts must apply these so-called 27 Bluetooth factors to smoke out potential collusion.”); see also Saucillo v. Peck, 25 F.4th 1118, 1130

1 Dec. 16, 2013) (“[T]here is no fraud or collusion underlying this Settlement, and it was reached after 2 good faith, arms’-length negotiations, warranting a presumption in favor of approval.”) (citation 3 omitted); City P’ship Co. v. Atl. Acquisition Ltd. P’ship, 100 F.3d 1041, 1043 (1st Cir. 1996) (“When 4 sufficient discovery has been provided and the parties have bargained at arms-length, there is a 5 presumption in favor of the settlement.”); Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g Corp., 563 F. 3d 948, 965 (9th 6 Cir. 2009) (“We put a good deal of stock in the product of an arms-length, non-collusive, negotiated 7 resolution[.]”).

8 iii. The Amount Offered in Settlement Supports Approval

9 As stated by this Court, the primary consideration in evaluating a class settlement agreement 10 is “the protection of those class members, including the named plaintiffs, whose rights may not have 11 been given due regard by the negotiating parties.” Sarkisov v. StoneMor Partners L.P., No. 13-CV-12 04834-JD, 2015 WL 1249169, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2015) (citations omitted). “For obvious 13 reasons, the adequacy of relief provided for the class typically is the make-or-break factor in the 14 final approval of a class settlement.” In re Facebook, 522 F. Supp. 3d 617 at 626. With a recovery 15 of $9.9 million on the $20.5 million in estimated losses, Plaintiffs will recover just under 50% of 16 their calculated losses (before deductions for Notice Administration, Service Awards, and 17 Attorneys’ Fees and Expenses). Plaintiffs submit that a nearly 50% recovery in a complex case 18 involving an unprecedented Outage is a significant recovery that will meaningfully compensate 19 Settlement Class Members for their proposed losses. The Settlement further allows Settlement Class 20 Members that have initiated other legal proceedings against Robinhood or are unhappy with the 21 Settlement Payment, to opt-out and preserve their rights. There is no opt-out threshold by which the 22 Settlement will fail if it is exceeded. Joint Decl. ¶ 44; see generally, SA.

23 In the alternative, there are significant legal issues that were not typical and that presented 24 real risks to Plaintiffs to continue litigating the Action. First, the scope and magnitude of the Outages 25 is unprecedented. There is no putative class action that has laid a blueprint for litigation and 26 resolution, which differentiates this case from those arising from typical consumer or securities fraud 27 cases predicated on a failure to disclose. Joint Decl. ¶ 62. Second, given that the Outages prevented 28 documentation for most of the trading records, Robinhood has argued extensively that its own

1 alleged misconduct precluded Plaintiffs' ability to determine issues of Article III standing and 2 damages on a class-wide basis. Id. The Court raised similar concerns to Plaintiffs, particularly at 3 the hearing on Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification. Id. Third, Robinhood filed for summary 4 judgment alleging that its operative customer agreement exculpated it from any claims alleged in 5 this case, an argument that was successful at obtaining dismissal of other Robinhood investors' 6 claims in a putative class action concurrently litigated in multidistrict litigation in Florida. See In re 7 January 2021 Short Squeeze Trading, 584 F.Supp.3d 1161. Fourth, this case raised a number of 8 legal questions of first impression (that are inherently risky), such as whether Robinhood had 9 common law or regulatory obligations to maintain contingency plans for traders on an online-only 10 securities trading platform and whether Plaintiffs' theories of liability under California law would 11 withstand Robinhood's contrary arguments. Joint Decl. ¶ 62. For example, does Robinhood owe 12 its customers a fiduciary duty to maintain an operable online platform? Does the economic loss 13 doctrine bar Plaintiffs' common law claims? Does the customer agreement exculpate Robinhood 14 from liability?

15 After careful consideration of these issues and weighing the risks of proceeding with the 16 Action, Class Counsel determined that the Settlement Agreement, providing a $9.9 million non-17 reversionary fund, was the best course of action. Given the serious risks involved in continuing the 18 case, chief among them—obtaining class certification, defending the inevitable Rule 23(f) petition 19 if class certification was granted, defeating summary judgment, defeating multiple Daubert motions, 20 and prevailing at trial—all in a relatively untrodden area of the law. And, even if Plaintiffs 21 successfully proved their case at trial, the amount of recovery, if any, could vary widely depending 22 on other factors, including the Court's discretion. Crucially, even if anything were recovered, it 23 would take years to secure, as Robinhood undoubtedly would appeal any adverse judgment. In 24 comparison, the Settlement provides a guaranteed, immediate, and substantial cash recovery of $9.9 25 million.

26 Furthermore, Class Counsel submits that the Settlement here compares favorably to these 27 and other class action settlements seeking recovery for investors in securities cases. See e.g. In re
28 Zynga Inc. Sec. Litig., No. 12-CV-04007-JSC, 2015 WL 6471171, at *11 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 27, 2015)

7 held that “while this percentage may seem small compared to the potential maximum, that alone is 8 not sufficient reason to reject the Settlement”); In re LDK Solar Sec. Litig., No. C 07-5182 WHA, 10 despite plaintiffs only recovering 5% of their estimated damages before fee and costs).

11 iv. The Proposed Treatment of Class Members Relative to Each Other is Fair
12 Under the Plan of Allocation

13 As set forth in the proposed Plan of Allocation, Class Members are eligible for payment if 14 they experienced a loss pertaining to a Qualifying Trade during the Outages. See SA, Ex. 1. Class 15 Members will receive direct payment based on a pro rata adjustment. Id. No segment of Class 16 Members is treated more favorably than any other. Accordingly, each Class Member with a “valid 17 claim will receive a pro rata share of the common fund, less court-approved fees, expenses and other 18 payouts[]” and thus “[t]his factor weighs in favor of final approval.” In re Facebook, 522 F. Supp.
19 3d at 629.

20 To determine each Settlement Class Members’ Settlement Payment, Plaintiffs’ expert, Scott 21 Walster of Global Economics Group, used the Customer Trading Information to calculate Settlement
22 Payments in accordance with the Plan of Allocation. See Walster Decl. ¶¶ 6-7. All Settlement 23 Payments are offset by any modest payments made to the Settlement Class Member paid by 24 Robinhood as a result of its Goodwill Program pertaining to the March 2020 Outages. Id.

25 For the VWAP Loss Trades for those who closed all or a portion of a position on March 3, 26 2020, the VWAP(s) for the corresponding security(s) on March 2-3, 2020 is determined from 27 available market data. The Settlement Class Member’s loss for each security is calculated as the 28 difference between the price of the trade and the VWAP multiplied by the number of shares traded

1 or the number of underlying shares represented by the option contract(s) traded. See SA, Ex. 1; 2 Walster Decl. Ex. 1.

3 For the SPY Options Trades for those who held a SPDR S&P 500 (“SPY”) option Position 4 expiring on March 2, 2020, the loss for each option is calculated as the value of the investment based 5 on the VWAP during the March 2, 2020 Outage less any gain resulting from the difference between 6 the strike price and the underlying SPY price for in-the-money options at expiration on March 2, 7 2020. See SA, Ex. 1; Walster Decl. Ex. 1.

8 For the Failed Marketable Trades for those who experienced a Failed Equity Trade of a 9 marketable order during the March 2 and 3 Outages the loss is calculated as the difference between 10 the price obtained when executing the transaction once the Outage ended through March 4, 2020 11 and the price of the failed transaction once it became marketable multiplied by the number of shares 12 traded or the number of underlying shares represented by the option contract(s) traded. For 13 Settlement Class Members who experienced a Failed Equity Trade of a marketable order during the 14 March 9 Outage the loss is calculated as the difference between the price obtained when executing 15 the transaction once the Outage ended through March 10, 2020 and the price of the failed transaction 16 once it became marketable multiplied by the number of shares traded or the number of underlying 17 shares represented by the option contract(s) traded. If a new price for the failed transaction was not 18 obtained through March 4, 2020 or March 10, 2020, respectively, the loss is determined as the 19 difference between the price of the security once the corresponding Outage ended and the price of 20 the failed transaction multiplied by the number of shares traded or the number of underlying shares 21 represented by the option contract(s) traded. See SA, Ex. 1; Walster Decl. Ex. 1. The Settlement is 22 also designed so that any residual funds are distributed to Class Members if economically feasible.
23 Id. ¶ 2.3(f).

24 v. The Class Members’ Reaction to the Settlement

25 Given that notice was just distributed three weeks prior to this filing, Plaintiffs will more 26 fully address this in the reply papers prior to the hearing. To date, 7 opt-outs have been received by 27 the Notice Administrator and 1 objection has been filed although Class Counsel have also received 28 positive feedback from Class Members. Azari Decl., ¶ 31; Joint Decl., ¶ 33.

1 vi. The Strength of Plaintiffs' Case

2 Here, as set forth in the Joint Declaration, Class Counsel engaged in lengthy arm's-length 3 negotiations and were thoroughly familiar with the applicable facts, legal theories, and defenses on 4 both sides. Joint Decl. ¶¶ 29-30. Although Plaintiffs and Class Counsel had confidence in their 5 claims, they also recognize that they would face risks on class certification, summary judgment, and 6 trial. Robinhood vigorously denies Plaintiffs' allegations, and at the time of Settlement, had made 7 clear that it would continue to pursue its motion for summary judgement. In addition, cross Daubert-
8 motions were pending, Robinhood would no doubt present an aggressive defense at trial, and there 9 was no assurance that the Class would prevail – or even if they did, that they would be able to obtain 10 an award of damages significantly more than achieved here absent such risks. Thus, the proposed 11 Settlement provides the Class with an good opportunity to obtain significant relief at this stage in 12 the litigation. The Settlement also abrogates the risks that might prevent them from obtaining any 13 relief.

14 vii. The Risks of Continued Litigation

15 Based upon the procedural posture of the case and pre-trial preparations, the terms and 16 conditions of this Settlement are fair, reasonable, and adequate to the Class and in their best interests 17 given the risks of continued litigation. Approval of a class settlement is warranted when the 18 settlement helps to avoid continued litigation that would delay or deprive the class of relief, and 19 would “save [] the time, expense, and inevitable risk of litigation.” Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv.
20 Comm'n, 688 F.2d 615, 624 (9th Cir.1982), cert. denied, 459 U.S. 1217, 103 S.Ct. 1219, 75 L.Ed.2d 21 456 (1983); see also Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 966 (favoring settlement where “[i]nevitable appeals 22 would likely prolong the litigation, and any recovery by class members, for years”). If Plaintiffs do 23 not settle their claims against Robinhood, Plaintiffs will face a number of obstacles in litigating this 24 case through class certification, trial, and judgment.

25 All of the pertinent facts, discovery, and documents had been vetted by the time the 26 Settlement was reached. Given the posture of the case, the Settlement is appropriate because it 27 guarantees a substantial monetary recovery now without the risks of trial, loss and potential appeals.
28 Thus, while Plaintiffs believe that the claims have merit, Plaintiffs concluded that there was a risk

1 that the proposed Settlement Class could recover less than the Settlement, or nothing at all, if the 2 Action continued. The assessment of these very real risks to the proposed Settlement weigh in favor 3 of approval.

4 viii. The Risks of Maintaining Class Action Status Through Trial

5 As referenced above, proceeding in this litigation in the absence of settlement poses various 6 risks such as having class certification denied, experts excluded, summary judgment granted against 7 Plaintiffs, or losing at trial. Such considerations have been found to weigh heavily in favor of 8 settlement. See Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 966; Curtis-Bauer v. Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., No. C 06– 9 3903 THE, 2008 WL 4667090, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 22, 2008) (“Settlement avoids the complexity, 10 delay, risk and expense of continuing with the litigation and will produce a prompt, certain, and 11 substantial recovery for the Plaintiff class.”). Even assuming that Plaintiffs were able to survive 12 summary judgment, they would face the risk of establishing liability at trial. It is virtually impossible 13 to predict with any certainty which interpretation of the facts would be credited, and ultimately, 14 accepted by the Court or the jury. The experience of Class Counsel has taught them that these 15 considerations can make the ultimate outcome of a trial highly uncertain. Moreover, even if Plaintiffs 16 prevailed at trial, in light of the possible damage theories that could be presented by both sides, Class 17 Members may be awarded significantly less than is offered to them under this Settlement. Regardless 18 of outcome, Robinhood could also move to decertify any certified class, or appeal any decision in 19 favor of Plaintiffs. By settling, Plaintiffs and the Class avoid those risks, as well as the delays, costs, 20 and risks of the appellate process.

21 ix. The Advanced Stage of Litigation and Completed Discovery Support the Settlement

22 In a class action setting, courts look for indications that the parties carefully investigated the 23 claims before reaching a resolution, including propounding and reviewing discovery. In re
 24 Volkswagen “Clean Diesel” Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prods. Liab. Litig., MDL No. 2672 CRB
 25 (JSC), 2016 WL 6248426, at *14 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 25, 2016) (“extensive review of discovery materials 26 indicates [Plaintiffs have] sufficient information to make an informed decision about the 27 Settlement.”); see also In re Portal Software Sec. Litig., No. C-03-5138 VRW, 2007 WL 4171201, 28 at *4 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2007). As discussed above, Class Counsel engaged in extensive

1 investigation, research, and analysis of the Settlement Class’s claims, which resulted in the Court
2 upholding the Consolidated Complaint in its entirety other than dismissing defendant Robinhood 3 Markets, Inc. ECF No. 95. Class Counsel thereafter aggressively pursued discovery through 4 multiple requests for production of documents, intensive meet and confers, and taking and defending 5 twenty-four depositions. Robinhood produced over 50,000 documents of fact-related material for 6 review. In addition, Class Counsel consulted with numerous consultants and experts, engaged in 7 Daubert motions, and served subpoenas on several non-parties. This discovery allowed Class 8 Counsel to adequately evaluate the merits of Plaintiff’s claims and Robinhood’s defenses.

9 x. The Experience and Views of Counsel

10 “The recommendations of plaintiffs’ counsel should be given a presumption of 11 reasonableness.” In re Omnivision Techs, Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d at 1043 (citation omitted). Deference 12 to Class Counsel’s evaluation of the Settlement is appropriate because “[p]arties represented by 13 competent counsel are better positioned than courts to produce a settlement that fairly reflects each 14 party’s expected outcome in litigation.” Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 967. Here, as stated above and in 15 Plaintiffs’ previous motions, the Settlement was negotiated by counsel with extensive experience in 16 consumer class action litigation. Joint Decl., ¶ 61. Based on their experience, Class Counsel 17 concluded that the Settlement provides exceptional results for the Class while sparing the Class from 18 the uncertainties of continued and protracted litigation.

19 xi. No Government Participant Was Present

20 To date, no governmental entity has intervened or voiced any objection to the Settlement.

21 xii. The Request for Attorneys’ Fees, Expenses, and Service Awards is Fair and 22 Reasonable

23 As set forth in the proposed Notice and accompanying Motion, Class Counsel are seeking 24 attorneys’ fees up to 30% of the Settlement Fund (i.e., $2,970,000). As of June 30, 2022, Class 25 Counsel and Executive Committee members report a lodestar of approximately $5,450,870 in hours
26 incurred after consolidation. Joint Decl. ¶ 48. The lodestar represents a 0.54 multiplier. This is well 27 below the normal range awarded in class actions. See Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 28 1051 n.6 (9th Cir. 2002) (noting multipliers of between 1.0 and 4.0 are “frequently awarded”); Smith

1 v. CRST Van Expedited, Inc., No. 10-CV-1116-IEG (WMC), 2013 WL 163293, at *5 (S.D. Cal. Jan.
2 14, 2013). Pursuant to the Settlement, any Fee and Expense Award to Class Counsel will be paid
3 from the Settlement Fund within five (5) days after entry of the Court’s order providing for an award 4 of attorneys’ fees and/or expenses. See SA § 9.1.a.; see also Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(2)(c)(iii).

5 Class Counsel anticipate seeking reimbursement for out-of-pocket expenses up to 6 $1,102,432.84. Class Counsel and Executive Committee members report $993,248.27 in expenses, 7 the bulk of which are expert witness fees, deposition costs, and ESI vendors. Joint Decl. ¶ 55. Class 8 Counsel anticipates up to $110,735.62 in additional unpaid invoices, mostly for the work to 9 determine the settlement payments and Plaintiffs’ ESI vendor Scott E. Walster for his work to 10 determine the Settlement Payments. Id. The balance of the expenses include, among others, court 11 fees, service of process, mediation costs, online legal and factual research, minimal travel costs, 12 database expenses, and messenger, courier, and overnight mail expenses. See Declaration of Steve 13 Lopez (filed concurrently with the fee and expense motion).

14 In addition, Class Counsel intend to seek a Service Payment of $2,500 for the fifteen Plaintiffs 15 in the Action. SA § 9.2. Service Awards “have long been approved in the Ninth Circuit.” In re
16 Apple Inc. Device Performance Litig., No. 5:18-md-02827-EJD, 2021 WL 1022866, at *11 (N.D.
17 Cal. Mar. 17, 2021). The proposed Service Awards requested here are reasonable. “Incentive awards 18 typically range from $2,000 to $10,000.” Bellinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co., 306 F.R.D. 245, 267
19 (N.D. Cal. 2015) (collecting cases). Courts in this District have found that a $5,000 incentive award 20 is presumptively reasonable. In re LinkedIn User Privacy Litig., 309 F.R.D. 573, 592 (N.D. Cal.
21 2015); Rosado v. Ebay Inc., No. 5:12-cv-04005-EJD, 2016 WL 3401987, at *9 (N.D. Cal. June 21, 22 2016). And, because the Settlement is not conditioned on the Court’s approval of any Service 23 Award, the Settlement does not grant preferential treatment to Class Representatives or Plaintiffs.
24 SA § 9.3. The Service Awards include Plaintiffs who are not part of the Settlement Class. However, 25 their efforts were key to the Parties settling this case. Several of these Plaintiffs took part in 26 depositions. Joint Decl. ¶ 19. All participated in responding to discovery requests from Robinhood 27 and document production. Id. Plaintiffs’ interests do not conflict with or diverge from the interests 28 of the Settlement Class, and thus the Court should determine the request is fair. Radcliffe v. Experian

1 Info. Solutions, Inc., 715 F.3d 1157, 1161 (9th Cir. 2013).

2 xiii. Cy Pres Payments are Premature and Can Be Deferred

3 Based on the manner in which automatic payments will be made, the Parties do not anticipate 4 substantial residual funds remaining in the otherwise non-reversionary Class Settlement Amount. In 5 the event residual funds do remain after payment of Settlement Payments to Settlement Class
 6 Members, Settlement Administrative Expenses, Taxes, Fee and Expense Award, and Service
 7 Payments, the settlement provides that they be distributed to the Non-Profit Cy Pres Recipients. SA
 8 § 2.3(g). While Plaintiffs originally proposed the Howard University School of Law Investor Justice 9 and Education Clinic (“IJE”) as the Non-Profit Cy Pres Recipient, per the Court’s request at 10 preliminary approval, Plaintiffs can table whether a cy pres distribution will be necessary in 11 connection with the post-settlement accounting reports once it is determined how much, if any, 12 residual funds are left. Accordingly, Plaintiffs will seek leave to make any cy pres distributions at a 13 later date, if necessary.

14 V. CONCLUSION

15 For the reasons discussed herein, Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court certify a Class for 16 settlement purposes, and finally approve the proposed Settlement and Plan of Allocation.

18 DATED: March 27, 2023

Respectfully submitted,
